X-Series Tailored Undertray Toolboxes

The X-series model of these tailored boxes also incorporates the same advanced locking system as the X-series canopy and seamlessly integrates into the keyless entry providing a cohesive and streamlined user experience.

Keyless entry system

The MRT keyless entry system is a revolutionary feature that offers the ultimate convenience and security for your vehicle. With this patent-pending system, you can effortlessly lock and unlock all of your canopy doors using a single remote, saving you time and hassle. This innovative technology provides enhanced peace of mind by offering superior protection for your equipment and is the perfect solution for anyone who values convenience and efficiency.

Internal LED lighting

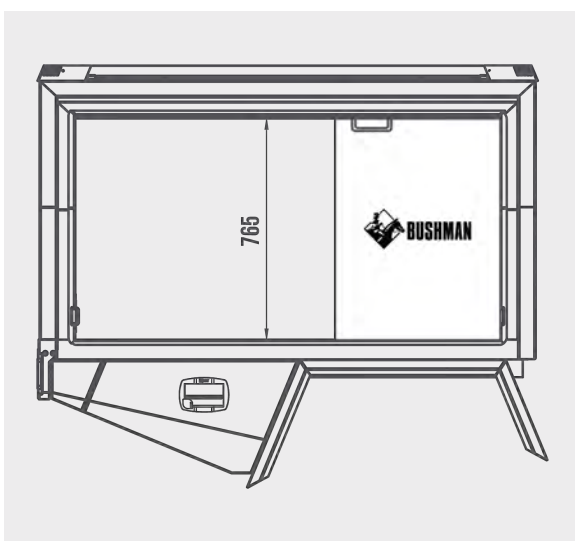

Each door of the canopy is equipped with its own LED strip light and switch. The light is strategically positioned so that when the canopy door is opened, it illuminates both underneath the door and inside the canopy.

This unique design incorporates a 3-way lighting system, providing two color options: a standard blue/white light and an orange light. The orange light is specifically designed to deter bugs during nighttime use. As an added convenience, our smart system ensures that if you accidentally leave your lights on and close the door, it automatically turns them off for you.

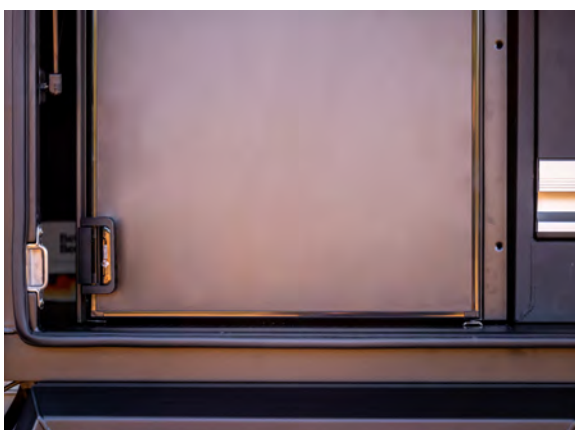

Advanced locking system

The X-Series canopy enhances security and convenience with its patented, advanced three-stage locking system. It features both slam-shut locking and finger-pull opening mechanisms, ensuring easy access and enhanced safety. The unique design, incorporating a single handle, contributes to a tight dust seal. Unlike traditional whale tail locks, this fully enclosed system prevents loose items from becoming entangled or obstructing the locking mechanism, effectively eliminating cutouts on the floor that could be obstructive and potential jamming issues caused by loose items in the canopy.

More internal space.

The canopy has been expertly designed ensuring a seamless aesthetic fit while offering massive internal space. Notably, users will appreciate the significant 765mm clearance inside the canopy, making it ideal for storing tall items such as the Bushman's 130L fridge.

Flush flooring

The X-Series chassis mount canopy features a flush flooring design, which eliminates the necessity for sub-floors. This design extends to both side doors, creating a uniform and level surface providing full access from the base of the floor. The flush floor design ensures there is no wasted space in the X-Series chassis mount canopy.
